THE MORNING'S NEWS.

WASHINGTON.

The Mormon Question in Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—On motion of Mr. Haskell (Rep., Kan.) the House went to business on the Speaker's table, the object being to reach the Senate Anti-Polygamy bill and pass it. The Democrats at once began to obstruct progress, and as some thirty bills are ahead of the Anti-Polygamy bill they will probably succeed in turning the Republicans out. The Republicans are anxious to commit the House before the Cannon case comes up. The reports in this case are now printed and have been distributed. There is strong evidence that the Mormon leaders recognize the gravity of the situation, and in order to forestall Congressional action are themselves secretly moving with a view to this abolition of polygamy. A strong and perhaps the dominant element in the Mormon church is convinced that polygamy is doomed, and that they can only save the other features of Mormonism by gracefully bending to the storm and themselves abandoning the obnoxious features of their religion. Emboldened by the expression of public sentiment the Gentile element in the territory is behaving very badly, and Mormons of property look with apprehension on the spirit of disorder, which would only need a slight provocation to burst forth in riots. With polygamy out of the way, the next step in the plan is to apply for admission as a state.

Reorganization of our Navy.

Representative Harris (Rep., Mass.) introduced a bill and report from the house committee on naval affairs today, and asked that March 22 be set apart for the consideration of the general subject of the reorganization of the navy. Mr. Springer (Dem., Ill.) objected, and there were many others who would have offered objections if concerted action had been necessary. Owing to the tyranny of the rules it will be difficult if not impossible to consider this measure this winter, except by unanimous consent, and that will not be given.

The Tax on Glucose.

A delegation appeared before the ways and means committee this morning and made an argument against the bill which proposes to impose a tax upon glucose. The delegation consisted for the most part of manufacturers of this article. They claim that the attempt to tax glucose is inspired by sugar refiners, who feel the competition of the cheaper grades of syrup which the glucose manufacturers make, and that the only substantial opposition to glucose proceeds from these sugar refiners. These gentlemen maintained that the industry is a growing one in the West; that it affords a large market for the products of the country, and that it ought to be encouraged and not discouraged.

A New State on the Pacific Coast.

The House committee on territories has agreed to a bill to admit Washington territory as a state. The grounds on which the admission is claimed are the rapid increase in the population of the territory, the increase in the area of taxable property, the growth of the business interests and of railroad enterprises, and the increase in the agricultural products of the territory, also the fact that the territory is entirely free of debt, the examination in October, 1881, having shown a surplus in the treasury of $22,317.

The Tariff Commission Bill.

Representative McKinley of the ways and means committee, when asked what would be the probable further action of that committee with regard to the tariff commission bill, said the majority of the committee would press it to consideration in the House. He believed this would be done to the extent even of laying aside all the bills having precedence of this one on the calendar. There had not been a meeting of the committee to discuss the new situation, but he thought that the majority were determined to put through the bill for a tariff commission and would resort to such a course in order to do so. He said that he did not think the minority of the ways and means committee had prepared an itemized revenue reduction bill to offer as an amendment to the commission bill, but believed that a number of bills providing for a reduction in certain items was ready to be offered when occasion arrived.

Adverse Report on Dakota.

The house committee on territories has decided to report adversely on the bill admitting Dakota as a state. There will be a minority report, but that of the majority will almost certainly prevail. The main opposition among the citizens of the territory is on the part of farmers and business men. Those who represent their views here have convinced most of the committee that few, except politicians, desire a change to a state form. The farmers urge the great cost of such a government as the objection which should control. They insist, also, that the statements of the population laid before the committee have been greatly exaggerated, and that the cost of a state government would be considerably greater than has been represented by those who are trying to secure the change.

Mexican Affairs.

Mr. Romeo, speaking today of what he was reported to have said last night, contended that the reporter had misunderstood him. He says he does not think it proper for him to speak about public affairs in Mexico before he had any interview with the Secretary of State, and asks to be excused from expressing any opinion as yet on Mexican affairs. As to the Zona Libre, Mr. Romeo says, "it exists in the state of La Manli Pas, and it will in all probably be affected by the completion of railroad communication between Mexico and the United States."

State Dinner to the Cabinet.

President Arthur gave a dinner tonight to several members of the Cabinet and a number of Senators and their wives. The dinner was informal and social, and given in return for the hospitalities tendered to the President during the winter. Ex-Secretary Blaine, Mrs. Blaine, Mrs. Wadsworth, Miss Frelinghuysen and Miss Beale were among the invited guests.

Aid for the Sufferers.

LOUISVILLE, March 8.—A public meeting of the Board of Trade today adopted the following:—

Resolved, That this Board respectfully urge upon Congress the propriety of making sufficient appropriations to enable the War Department to continue its work of relieving the pressing wants of sufferers by the overflow of the Mississippi river.

ST. LOUIS, March 8.—At a meeting of merchants on 'Change today Gov. Crittenden made an earnest appeal for aid for the sufferers in the overflowed districts of Southeastern Missouri. About $2000 in money and provisions were donated at once, and the relief commission, appointed some days ago, instructed to solicit additional subscriptions. General Beckwith, of the Subsistence Department United States army here, has sent 16,000 rations to Mound City, Ill., and 5000 rations each to Pemiscot and Mississippi counties, Missouri, and more are to follow.

FOREIGN NOTES.

Notes from Ireland.

DUBLIN, March 8.—The Gazette contains a proclamation offering a reward of £500 for information leading to the conviction of the murderers of the tenant Morony.

A meeting of the Ladies' Land League yesterday acknowledged having received £51 for the general fund, and £1,511 for the imprisoned leaguers.

LIVERPOOL, March 8.—The United Ireland was again issued here on Tuesday. Its imprint bears the name of Mr. Denver, who was recently fined for aiding and abetting the printing of that journal without an imprint, as the printer for William O'Brien.

The Times's correspondent at Rome says:—"At the approaching consistory the Pope will create seven new cardinals, including Rev. Dr. McCabe, Archbishop of Dublin. It is understood that this expresses the Pope's approval of the efforts which Archbishop McCabe made in the cause of law and order in Ireland."

Bi-Metallic Meeting in London.

LONDON, March 8.—The Times deprecates the bi-metallic meeting to be held at the Mansion House today as calculated to foster a delusion abroad that England intends to tamper with the currency.

Expedition to the South Pole.

LONDON, March 8.—A despatch to the Times from Paris reports that the French Cabinet has approved of the plan of Admiral Jauregiuberry, Minister of Marine, for a scientific expedition to the South Pole, in cooperation with other powers.

An Important Budget.

LONDON, March 8.—The Standard considers that the Indian Budget, which is to be laid before the Viceroy of India today, in abolishing cotton and other import duties, is one of the most important budgets ever drawn up.

Charged with Inciting an Insurrection.

LONDON, March 8.—The Manchester Guardian confirms the report of the arrest at Ragusa of Mr. Evans, its Dalmatian correspondent. It appears that an order was first issued for his expulsion, and he was about to embark with his wife when he was taken to the barracks of the gens d'arme, apparently because he was suspected of inciting the people to insurrection.

The Queen's Assailant.

LONDON, March 8.—The would-be assassin, MacLean, has been identified as a man who last summer frequented the vicinity of Windsor Castle and acted in a suspicious manner.

The New French Minister.

PARIS, March 8.—M. Ronstan, having participated in the deliberations upon the financial administrative reorganization of Tunis, will not leave for Washington before the middle of May. M. Outrey, the present minister at Washington, will meanwhile remain there.

The Czar Friendly with Emperor William.

LONDON, March 8.—The Berlin correspondent to the St. James Gazette says the Czar has expressed a desire to avail himself of the approaching birthday of the Emperor William to make a public manifestation of the continuance of friendly relations between the two empires.

Introduction of Mr. Bradlaugh.

LONDON, March 8.—In the House of Commons, last night, the Speaker, replying to a question by Mr. Henry Labouchere, Liberal, member for Northampton, said it would be disorderly for two members to attempt to introduce Mr. Bradlaugh.

American Enterprise Abroad.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 8.—An American company, supported by General Wallace, the United States Minister, is endeavoring to obtain a concession for a railway in the province of Bagdad.

DR. FRAZIER'S ROOT BITTERS.

The above wonderful medicine is, as its name indicates, strictly a Bitters or Blood Cleanser, made from roots, combined with herbs and plants, such as are found in Nature's garden. I first used Dr. Frazier's Root Bitters myself for weakness of the lungs, catarrh and scrofula in the system, which broke out in pimples and blotches, and after doctoring with physicians and trying advertised medicines (including Sarsaparilla) without finding relief my discovery effected a complete cure. Frazier's Root Bitters are not a drum shop whiskey beverage, but are strictly medical in every sense. They act strongly upon the liver and kidneys, keep the bowels open and regular, make the weak strong, heal the lungs, build up the nerve and cleanse the blood and system of every impurity. For dizziness, rush of blood to the head tending to apoplexy, dyspepsia, fever and ague, dropsy, pimples and blotches, scrofulous humors and sores, tetter ring worm, white swelling, erysipelas, sore eyes and for young men suffering from weakness or debility caused from imprudence and to females in delicate health, Frazier's Root Bitters are especially recommended.

Dr. Frazier: I have used two bottles of your Root Bitters for dyspepsia, dizziness, weakness and kidney disease, and they did me more good than the doctors and all the medicine I ever used. From the first dose I took I began to mend, and I am now in perfect health, and feel as well as ever I did. I consider your medicine one of the greatest of blessings. MRS. M. MARTIN, Cleveland, O.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Election of Officers.

NEW YORK, March 8.—At the annual meeting of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, the following directors were elected:—Sidney Dillon, Elisha Atkins, Frederick L. Ames, of New York; Ezra H. Baker, of Boston; S. H. H. Clark, of Omaha; F. Gordon Dexter, of Boston; David Dows, of New York; Grenville M. Dodge, of Council Bluffs; T. T. Eckert, Jay Gould, Solon Humphreys, Russell Sage and Augustus Schell, of New York; Wm. L. Scott, of Erie, Penn.; John Sharp, of Salt Lake City. Sidney Dillon was re-elected president. The financial statement shows the earnings on passengers for 1881 were $5,131,571; on freight, $17,063,127, showing a total increase over 1880 of $1,541,056.

The recent judgment of the United States Supreme Court in favor of the Union Pacific will insure to them about $2,000,000 back charges from the government and will in the future bring $500,000 to the company. The quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent. was voted.

DISASTERS ON THE SEA.

Starving Sailors Rescued.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The Navy Department has a communication from Admiral Brish, commanding the Pacific station, dated Valparaiso, Chili, January 26, in which he reports that, at the request of Walker Blaine, Charge d'Affaires of the United States in Chili, he has ordered to be received on board the flagship Pensacola a party of thirteen Japanese sailors, who were shipwrecked in a typhoon off the coast of Japan, and were picked up in an open boat, in a starving condition, in lat. 43° N., long. 143° E., about 300 miles from Yokohama, by the American bark Abbie Carver, Capt. Carver, master, who treated the unfortunate men with great kindness and brought them to Valparaiso, where his vessel was bound.

LONDON, March 8.—The British steamer Finsbury, from Messina for New York, has stranded, after having been in a collision near Gibraltar. She is badly damaged and temporary repairs will occupy five days.

CALCUTTA, March 8.—The American ship Valiant, from Hong Kong, December 20, for New York, is on fire at this port. She will probably prove a total loss, together with her entire outward cargo. The vessel has been beached. It was owned by Thayer & Lincoln, of Boston.

The Illinois Wheat Crop.

NEW YORK, March 8. The report of the Illinois State Board of Agriculture of the condition and acreage of winter wheat, shows that the seeding for the next crop has been 2,676,000 acres, or 275,000 less than the previous crop. In the northern division the area is 15 per cent. or 12,000 acres below last year. The condition is 4 per cent. above the average. In the central division, which raises half of the whole crop of the state, the condition is 3 per cent. above the average and the acreage is 13 per cent., or 150,000 acres below last year. In the southern division there has seldom been a more promising condition or a better yield per acre in prospect.

THE SPRAGUE CASE.

Decision of the Supreme Court.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 8.—The Supreme Court today decided to advise the trustee of the A. & W. Sprague estates to name an early day and a convenient place to receive offers, by open competition, for his right, title and interest in the Sprague property, and to execute a contract of sale with such responsible party or parties as may make the highest offer in accordance with the terms of the sale, which are to be submitted to the court.

MAGNETIC

CLOTHING!

—AND—

Ladies' Corset.

The telegraph and telephone are wonderful inventions! But are no comparison to the health-giving and life-preserving "WILSONIA." The garments, when worn in sufficient quantities to cover the spine and nerve centres, according to directions, will cure all diseases that are curable. They will cure the worst cases of Catarrh ever known, and there is probably not a case of Paralysis but can be cured, if worn according to directions. All sensible men know that medicine will not cure paralysis, but the MAGNETIC CLOTHING will do it. It will also cure Rheumatism, Asthma, Bronchitis, Inflammation and Bleeding of the Lungs, Heart Disease, Albuminous Urine, Locomotor Ataxia, Gout, Varicose Veins, Congestion of the Kidneys, Spinal diseases, and all kinds of Female Weakness. Also a preventive as well as a cure for Pneumonia, and all contagious diseases, such as Small-pox, Scarlet Fever, Erysipelas, etc. There are now 17,000 people wearing these garments in New York, Brooklyn, Boston and Providence, and there are men of great minds, such as Peter Cooper, Charlow Weed, Com. Garrison, Gen. Graham, and thousands of others.

There have been scores of these garments sold in this city in the last few weeks, and they are doing wonderful cures. Names and testimonials can be seen at this office.

MR. LILLIBRIDGE,

the agent for the city, was stricken down with paralysis, laid for weeks in St. Luke's Hospital, New York, and the physicians pronounced his case entirely hopeless. Mr. Lillibridge put on the garments the 25th of June, 1881, and is today almost as well as he ever was. Send or call for a circular at the Principal Office for New England.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS AND THE NEWPORT JOURNAL.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon (Sundays excepted), at the News building, 127 Thames street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies and at least one good story, and a complete and comprehensive summary of news,—local and general. The Journal is a large 36 column paper and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from the city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal will be sent to any address in the United States, postage paid, for $2 a year. A discount of 50 cents is made when the whole year is paid strictly in advance. These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines, or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered by the Daily for one week or longer.

Notices of births, marriages and funerals 50 cents each.

Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business, are guaranteed but five insertions in a week and are allowed twenty-five changes a year.

The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

The News has four steam presses and is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

THURSDAY, MARCH 9, 1882.

March must be fickle.

No clue has yet been found to the murderer of Mrs. Bell, in Boston, on Tuesday last.

The peanut crop bids fair to be a partial failure in some sections where it usually does well.

Another man is reported killed by touching an electric light wire. This time in Pittsburgh.

The Western Union Telegraph Company has declared its usual quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent.

Rev. W. H. Cudworth announces a free lecture in Boston on fools, and the announcement adds—all are welcome. If all the fools in Boston do go, it will be a big thing.

The Supreme Court yesterday rejected the Lapham offer to purchase the Sprague trust estate for 33 cents on a dollar. The court advises that the property be sold at public auction.

It is suggested that if the detectives cannot find the murderer of Mrs. Bell, of Boston, the newspaper reporters be called in. We trust it is not on the theory that it is well to "set a thief to catch a thief."

This is Vice President Davis's birthday. So says one of our printers whose own natal anniversary occurs at the same time, and our informant adds that it is a big thing to have two such men celebrate together.

And now Senator Edmunds declines an appointment to the Supreme Court. The office goes begging and as the stalwarts refuse to accept, President Arthur will do well to offer it to some independent Republican. No member of that wing of the party was ever known to refuse.

Dr. Snow, the City Registrar, estimates the population of Providence at 111,913. The exactness of the figures indicates that it is not wholly an estimate but is founded on facts known to that accurate and careful statistician. Providence is to be congratulated on its rapid growth.

Vaccination began in high life in this country. It is said that Major General Ramsey, U. S. A., was the first child ever subjected to the process in the United States. The virus was sent from London by Dr. Jenner himself. Gen. Ramsey has just celebrated his 80th birthday in Washington.

The committee on territories have reported favorably on the admission of Washington territory as a state, and adversely on the admission of Dakota. The stories of the wealth of Dakota and the anxiety of the people to become a state have been shown to be merely the tricks of politicians who were striving to serve their own ends.

Some of the "old families" have affected to snub Wm. H. Vanderbilt in society matters. We observe that at a recent reception at his Fifth avenue palace, there were among his guests ex-Secretary Blaine, ex-Secretary Evarts, ex-Postmaster-General James, ex-Governor Morgan, ex-Governor Hoffman, Thurlow Weed, Judge Blatchford, ex-Judge Peabody, ex-Judge Pierrepont, Judge Daly, Chauncey M. Depew, Parke Godwin, Cyrus W. Field, ex-Secretary Schurz, Gen. L. P. Di Cesnola, and ex-Gov. Fish.

Sixty-five towns and cities in Massachusetts have just voted no license to twenty-three for license. The old complaint is kept up that prohibitory laws are not enforced. This is true in all the states to a great extent and it is equally true that license laws are not enforced. In this city, for instance, the man who pays for a license simply parts with so much money, for practically no distinction is made between licensed and unlicensed dealers. As was prominently predicted the temperance agitation has blown over, and all goes on lovingly with or without the sanction of law.

Yesterday's session of the Senate was devoted principally to discussing and perfecting the Chinese immigration bill. The Ingalls amendment limiting the suspension of the coming of Chinese laborers to ten years was defeated by a tie vote of 23 to 23. An amendment was adopted providing that the act shall not go into effect until ninety days after its passage, and, pending a vote on an amendment that hereafter no state court or United States court shall admit Chinese to citizenship, an adjournment was taken. In the House amendments to the proposed new rules for the government of that body were submitted and laid over. Mr. Harris's bill for the construction of vessels of war for the navy was submitted and referred to the committee of the whole, and several other bills were reported. The bill authorizing the purchase of the Freedman's Bank building in Washington was passed, and an effort to take up the Edmunds anti-polygamy bill failed.

The prospect for the wheat crop in the West is considered very good. The report of the Illinois State Board of Agriculture shows that the seeding for the next crop has been 2,679,000 acres, or 275,000 less than the previous crop. The condition is 4 per cent. above the average. In the central division, which raises half of the whole crop of the state, the condition is 3 per cent. above the average, and the acreage is 13 per cent. or 150,000 acres below last year. In the southern division there has seldom been a more promising condition or a better yield per acre in prospect. The reports from other states are of much the same tenor.

Several Chilian newspapers with marked articles abusing the United States in general terms, ridiculing Mr. Blaine's proposed American Congress, and lampooning the United States navy in particular, have been received by Secretary Hunt. One of the papers contains a cartoon illustrating the destruction of the United States navy by a Chilian fleet. The United States navy is represented by a large tub manned and rigged in a most ridiculous manner and beneath the picture are the words "The Chilians can beat the Yankees every time." Secretary Hunt attaches no importance to them and thinks that they can hardly be regarded as expressing the feeling of Chili toward the United States.

Mr. Jennings, the refrigerator man, who put the cooling apparatus in the White House during President Garfield's illness, has just put in the very modest little claim of $5,000 for his services. The committee has been over-crowded with enormous quantities of claims for remuneration. Persons who sent advice, some who sent gifts, patent medicines, &c., and who claim to have done a great amount of good all now claim something (and generally the claim is rather large) in return for services rendered. As to the cooling apparatus there has been much diversity of opinion and many claims for the honor. All these different claims will be carefully examined by the committee and they will find that they have a decidedly difficult nut to crack, and a great deal of hard work to do before they can properly adjust all the claims.

The report of the City Marshal made to the City Council shows that there were 156 arrests for crime in this city during the last quarter. It would be interesting to know just how many of these alleged offenders against the majesty of the law and the peace of the community have been put upon trial or even subjected to judicial examination. If they were guilty nothing is plainer than that they should have been punished. If they were innocent nothing is clearer than that they should not have been arrested. When arrested an investigation should follow in order to ascertain their guilt or innocence. But in a great majority of cases this has not been done. His Honor, the Mayor, has acted the part of both judge and jury and on his own motion set the accused free. Now if the Mayor has found all these arrests unnecessary and without sufficient cause the zeal of the policemen should certainly be abated. These men in blue coats and brass buttons should not be allowed to drag innocent men to the lock-up at that fearful rate for it must be presumed that their innocence was apparent or they would not have been summarily discharged. There is certainly a mistake somewhere and the conflict of opinion between the police who arrest men and the Mayor who sets them free should cease. Our municipal house should not be divided against itself in this way. We do not presume to say which is right, but it is evident that both cannot be administering justice wisely and well.

BLOCK ISLAND.

Town Meeting.—The annual town meeting was held here on Tuesday, the 7th inst., for the purpose of performing the ancient custom of letting the town's paupers to the lowest bidder and other routine business usually coming before such meeting. The most important event in the day's proceedings and one which has been the principal topic of conversation among our people of late was in reference to restriction of certain rights and privileges belonging to Mr. D. G. McCotter, the lessee of the black sand privileges, as granted by the town; the query to such being an outgrowth caused by certain rights which Mr. McCotter claims have been infringed upon by a former lessee of the bathing privileges which were granted by the town; such as holding bath-houses on certain valuable portions of sand preventing him from gathering the same, thereby as he claims damaging him to the amount of several hundred dollars. In view of this contention a petition was gotten up by several of our people requesting the town council to appoint a committee to confer with legal counsel for advice in obtaining instructions in the premises. Time will not allow your correspondent at this time to give but a brief mention of this complicated affair, but let it suffice at the present to say that without further mention of the action of the town, it must eventually end in litigation. A lease granted to Mr. William P. Card, the lessee of the bathing privileges, which gives him the privilege of hiring the same for two years more was revoked by the town council and a motion before the said town meeting that he have exclusive privileges of the bathing beach and erect bath houses for bathing purposes for two years from March 7th, 1882 and the use thereof, these to be let as heretofore or as they were let three years ago for the same rent and the same to be located by a committee hereafter appointed, was lost by a vote of 44 to 34.

A vote was afterwards passed that the letting of the bathing beach be left in the hands of the town council and to follow legal instructions obtained.

The next matter called for in the warrant was what action shall be taken in opening the breach leading from the great salt pond to prevent the overflow of water to the highway. This ended in the form of a resolution passed by unanimous vote that our Senator and Representative be instructed to use all their power to get an appropriation from the state for the purpose of opening a sluiceway into the said pond to the benefit of oysters and other fisheries. No other business coming before the house the meeting adjourned.

Briefs.—The opposition which has prevailed of late by certain parties to our present physician, Dr. C. H. Hadley, in endeavoring to obtain another to perform the duties at a less price has proved a failure and we are pleased to announce that he "holds the fort" to the satisfaction of the majority of our people.

Messrs. C. C. Ball and J. L. Macomber arrived home the past week from quite an extended tour through northern Maine and the dominions, the former for the purpose of purchasing a large quantity of lumber.

A series of religious meetings lasting two weeks is expected to begin at Odd Fellows' hall on Saturday, the 11th inst. Assistance from abroad is expected. This will close the series of interesting meetings which have been held from time to time during the winter and it is expected that this will be none the less successful than its predecessors.

Schooner Favorite, Eldredge, of New Haven, arrived here the 5th inst. to receive a cargo of black sand from Mr. D. G. McCotter for New York. Mac.

THE POISONING CASE.

Patrick Colough, the man mentioned yesterday as suffering from poison administered, as he charges, by his wife is still at the hospital but is now considered out of danger.

The facts of the case as stated by the sick man are:—For some time past the feeling between himself and his wife has not been of the best, as he says, because she was becoming intimate with a coachman named McMahon and wished to get rid of him. This feeling has been shown in various ways, especially by failure to prepare the meals for him and his children, of whom there are five. When he went home Tuesday evening he drank a cup of coffee, that was standing on the table, and then returned to Mr. Geo. E. Vernon's furniture rooms, where he is employed as night watchman. About ten o'clock he was seized by violent pains and vomiting, with a burning sensation in his stomach. He was taken home and attended by Dr. Curley who gave him an antidote for arsenic. Wednesday morning he was taken to the hospital where Dr. Turner attended him but saw no signs of poisoning.

While at the hospital he had been continually talking about his wife poisoning him and also of her neglect and wrongdoing. On the other hand Dr. Curley states that he attended him several years ago when he had an almost similar attack. At that time he was sick for several days during which he was carefully nursed by his wife. There was then no talk of poisoning. Although the symptoms in the present case are similar to those following arsenical poisoning it is by no means certain that the case is not a simple case of sickness which the husband in a fit of jealousy has attributed to poison administered by his wife. The police do not take much stock in the story and both Dr. Turner and Dr. Curley seem incredulous.

RIFLE SHOOTING.

At Paradise Range the following scores were made in the chrome match, 10 shots at a rest on the Massachusetts target. When it is remembered that a four inch circle is struck every time a 12 is scored the fineness of the shooting is remarkable.

W. B. Knight	12	12	11	12	12	12	12	12	12	12	12	119
W. M. Farrow	11	11	12	11	11	11	12	11	12	12	12	114
P. Peckham, Jr.	9	12	12	10	12	11	11	10	12	12	11	111
E. E. Leonard	9	10	11	7	12	12	11	9	12	12	12	105
J. Renson	9	9	9	11	11	7	10	10	12	11	10	99

In the off-hand match that followed, Mr. Farrow's score takes first, under the rules.

W. M. Farrow	10	11	12	11	9	12	11	11	11	11	109
W. B. Knight	11	11	12	10	11	11	10	11	12	10	109
E. E. Leonard	10	8	12	7	11	10	8	7	9	10	92
J. Renson	9	8	12	8	8	8	11	6	6	10	85
P. Peckham, Jr.	6	7	7	7	10	6	7	8	9	8	75

In a communication from New Bedford in regard to the team match it is intimated they would prefer to shoot the match on the Creedmoor target, as they are more accustomed to that than to the Massachusetts target. The teams will consist of six on a side and the competition for places will soon begin.

THE SECOND PART OF ELAINE TONIGHT.

All who listened to Mr. Sidney Woollett's interpretation of the first portion of this lovely poem will surely not miss the recital of the second part this evening, but even those who were unable to attend the recitation last Monday will find a rare treat in store for them in hearing the pathetic ending of the story tonight. Possibly the first portion of the poem may have afforded more opportunity for stirring dramatic power and effect, but nothing can be more impressive, we should think, than the mournful death of Elaine and her lone journey with her "old dumb servitor" far up the flood to the palace of King Arthur—an incident that has fascinated many an artist and has been produced in painting and in song.

AMERICAN RACE-HORSES IN ENGLAND.

At no previous period have we had so many race-horses of American origin in England as there are at present; and to the studs of Mr. Lorillard and Mr. Keene which achieved so many victories last year, will shortly be added, by all accounts, that of Mr. Philip Dwyer, who has signified his intention of at once bringing over several horses which have already made their mark in the United States. But even if the new-comers should fail to emulate the achievements of Iroquois and Foxhall, the forthcoming season is not unlikely to witness many an American victory in the great races; for while the two horses just mentioned are heavily engaged in the prizes open to four-year-olds, there is at least one three-year-old whose prospects of winning the Two Thousand Guineas and Derby are, judged by his performances last autumn, very promising. What may be the quality of the animals which have within the last six weeks taken rank as two-year-olds it is, of course, impossible to guess; but there can be no doubt that, whether because of the "blue grass" of Kentucky or of the discrimination shown in breeding, the American race-horses are much improved since specimens of them were first brought over to this country by Mr. Ten Broeck, in the days when so little was thought of foreign-bred stock that any animal bred out of England was allowed seven pounds in every race not a handicap.

The success of the American horses last season was certainly very remarkable; for though only two stables were represented, the five-and-twenty or thirty animals brought over by Mr. Lorillard and Mr. Keene won twenty races, of a total value of £25,031. Mr. Lorillard did best, so far as regards the number and value of the races secured, for he won nine, worth—inclusive of several small sums for second—£18,316. With Iroquois, a son of Leamington and Maggie B. B., he won the Newmarket Stakes of £275, the Burwell Stakes of £180, the Derby of £2,925, the Prince of Wales Stakes of £2,800, and the St. James's Palace Stakes of £1,500, at Ascot; the Doncaster St. Leger of £5,450, and the Newmarket Derby of £675. The only two defeats which Iroquois sustained were in the Two Thousand Guineas, for which he ran second to Peregrine, and in the champion stakes at Newmarket, when he finished third to Bend Or and Scobell. Mr. Lorillard was also the owner of a very promising two-year-old named Gerald, by Saxon—Girl of the Period, who ran very well in the United States in the summer, but who had a rough passage across the Atlantic in September. Despite that, he ran a very good race with two of the crack fillies of the season and soon after that finished second to Lord Rosebery's Kermesse in the Middle Park, beating some of the highest priced yearlings of the previous season. After this he was allowed to walk over the course for a rich sweepstakes; his winnings, inclusive of what he received for running second in the Middle Park plate, amounting to about £900. But, what is of still more importance, he is virtually first favorite for this year's Derby, and is so sound and apparently so capable of improvement that he is better entitled to consideration than most favorites are. The most disappointing of Mr. Lorillard's horses was the four-year-old Mistake, by Waverly—Misfortune; for he began the season by running second for the Lincolnshire Handicap and the Newmarket Handicap, and, though he won the International Handicap of £708 at Newmarket two days afterward, he afterward took part without success in most of the big handicaps. Passaic, a three-year-old by Longfellow—Jury, having been weeded out of Mr. Lorillard's stable, won two races—of £194 at Sandown Park, and of £155 at Manchester; Wallenstein secured the Great Shropshire Handicap of £912 at Shrewsbury, and another animal discarded by him, Dakota, won a handicap race worth about £100 in France.—[St. James's Gazette.

LITTLE COMPTON.

Gen. Nathaniel Church, a prominent citizen of this town, died on Monday of paralysis, at the age of 80 years. Having been in public life for many years he was well known throughout the state of Rhode Island, and in this section of Massachusetts. For more than twenty-five years he represented the town in the state Legislature, either as Senator or Representative, and he was elected to those offices a greater number of times than any of his fellow citizens. In town affairs he was always public spirited, active and prominent, and held all the town offices at different times.

In his early days he took an active part in military matters and was for a long time a colonel of a regiment. Later in life he was commissioned as a Brigadier-General of the state militia. He was a lineal descendant of Col. Benj. Church, the noted Indian fighter of the early days of New England history. He had three brothers and three sisters, only one of whom, a brother, the Col. John Church, of Little Compton, is now living, and he has reached the advanced age of eighty-eight years, and is still strong and hearty.

Gen. Church has been for many years a member of the Congregational society at Little Compton, and his funeral took place at their church on Thursday.

AN ARGENTINE NOAH WEBSTER.

It seems to have been reserved for a South American philologist to perform for the language of Cervantes and Calderon what has been accomplished for English by our own Noah Webster, and for the French language by that indefatigable scholar, the great Littré. A correspondent, writing to the Herald from Buenos Ayres, says:—"Prof. Calandrelli, who teaches classical philology at the University of Buenos Ayres, has finished, after many years of toil, and is now endeavoring to get published, a comparative philologiest dictionary of the Castilian language. The plan of the work is a vast one; the erudite author has sought to fix the etymology of each word by presenting its Sanscrit root; he studies it in its original source, and examines its relations in all the Indo-European languages. The worth of the dictionary is increased by the scientific classification of animals and plants which accompanies it, and by a department of synonyms. Those who have seen this colossal work compare the labor of Calandrelli to that of Webster, who found and fixed the foundations of the English language, or to the vast task of Littré, whose admirable dictionary is a veritable code of the French speech. Some even go so far as to hold that Prof. Calandrelli has done more in the course of his researches into the Castilian tongue than did Webster and Littré in their respective languages. The book will contain the roots of each word in the usual characters of the mother languages. Prof. Calandrelli's exact knowledge of Sanscrit is greatly eulogized. Sanscrit, picturesque, abundant, rich and energetic, was worthy of being spoken by the first men. It will be a great pity if the dictionary of Prof. Calandrelli remains in obscurity."

AMERICAN MEAT IN ENGLAND.

According to the Board of Trade returns nearly 40,000 tons of fresh beef were imported into this country from America last year. The value of this enormous quantity of animal food was nearly £2,000,000, or a fraction over 5 pence per pound. What became of it all? and what effect had it on the price of meat to the consumer? To the former question the general reply, it may be safely assumed, will be, "We have not the least idea;" and to the latter, "None whatever." The people are few and far between who can say they have seen meat which the butchers admitted to be American offered for sale, and still less in number are those who can tell of any noteworthy fall in price for years past. Everywhere the butchers profess to know nothing of the meat which comes across the Atlantic, and everywhere joints and legs and chops and steaks are high in price. Tenpence per pound for the larger class and 14 pence for the smaller are commonly paid, and if the customer wants anything below he must be content, oftener than not, with an article from which, notwithstanding severe treatment with the back of a knife and prolonged boiling or roasting, his teeth rebound as they would from a morsel of ink-eraser. How then? What shall be said? Simply this. That owing to a childish prejudice the British public—that "great, big stupid," as Thackery used to say—are having sold to them as native produce the very article which they think they don't like at a price at least 25 per cent. higher than they need pay if they would be sensible. A story told by Colonel Shaw, United States consul at Manchester, in his latest report to the Department of State at Washington, is instructive in this connection. The colonel asked a retail butcher in that city if he sold American meat. The butcher indignantly replied; "No, sir; I could not sell it here." The Colonel related this incident to a friend, who was prodigiously amused, and said;—"Two days ago I was coming down —— street in Manchester and saw this same butcher drop a paper. I picked it up and it was a long bill of American meat, and when he assured you he sold no American beef he forgot that all his stock that day was American beef and American only." Five or six years ago large establishments for the sale by retail of American beef were opened in Manchester, Sheffield, Liverpool, and indeed nearly all the towns in the manufacturing districts; but in a very short time, though they considerably undersold the ordinary butchers, they had to close their doors. People would not buy their meat because they openly announced where it came from, and now it would be hard to find an American meat store in any of those towns. Yet the railway companies are carrying American meat into them in great quantities daily from Liverpool and Hull, and the butchers' shops are always well filled. American meat comes into London, too, in vast quantities, but it is seldom heard of except at the stores under Cannon street station. Speak to a working man who appreciates the good quality and cheapness of the article which is avowedly imported—there are few such—and he will tell you that his "mess" does not like American meat, and so he does not buy it. Another, shrewder perhaps, will tell you he buys the American, and says nothing about it to his wife, leaving her to infer, being pleased with it the while, that it is English, whereas if he told her the state of the case she would take a fanciful dislike to it. Colonel Shaw says, however, that the prejudice against American meat is passing away. It is, in fact, difficult to account for its existence. The meat which is "raised" in America and sent over to this country is all round of better quality than the native article. Cattle destined for the market feed in the summer on the finest grazing-grounds in the world, and in the winter are fattened on Indian corn, which is more wholesome and more economical than any oil-cake. They are nearly always young and they are never over-driven. Hence the beef which they produce is tender and juicy and sweet, and above all it has the recommendation of cheapness. Why, then, should not the vast mass of English working people get the benefit?—[London Echo.

MR. WOOLLETT'S READINGS IN PROVIDENCE.

Providence, March 4, 1882.

Mr. Sidney Woollett, Newport, R. I.:—

Dear Sir—The undersigned would be pleased to have you give a series of public recitals from Tennyson's "Idyls of the King" at such time and place as may suit your earliest convenience. Respectfully yours, (signed by) A. H. Littlefield, Wm. S. Hayward, Henry W. Gardner, Edward A. Green, Augustine Jones, J. B. C. Woods, Thomas Durfee, Thomas A. Doyle, Thomas M. Clark, William Gammell, Arthur D. Payne, Benj. Tripp.

Newport, R. I., March 7, 1882.

Hon. A. H. Littlefield, Hon. Thomas Durfee, Hon. W. S. Hayward, Right Rev. T. M. Clark, D. D., Prof. Wm. Gammell, Hon. T. A. Doyle, and others:—

Gentlemen—In response to your kind invitation of the 4th inst., I shall be happy to comply with your request, and will recite Tennyson's Idyls of the King at the Amateur Dramatic Club hall, on Monday and Thursday evenings, March 20th, 23d, 27th and 30th. I have selected the following poems:—Lancelot and Elaine, Guinevere and the Passing of Arthur.

I am, gentlemen, respectfully yours,

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

JANUARY SESSION AT PROVIDENCE.

Wednesday, March 8.

Senate.

The Senate met this morning as per adjournment. Gov. Littlefield in the chair.

Senator Wilbur, from the committee on judiciary, reported back the bill in amendment of Chapter 140 of the Public Statutes, "Of Hawkers and Peddlers" with recommendation that it be passed.

Senator Doyle offered an amendment providing that nothing in the act shall be construed as applying to commercial travellers so-called, and the amendment prevailed. The bill was then passed as amended.

Senator Manchester presented the petition of S. Gilman Bowen for leave to build a wharf at Tiverton. Referred to the committee on judiciary.

Resolution appropriating $500 for each of the four agricultural societies of the state, and also for the Horticultural Society. Referred to the finance committee.

Senator Doyle offered a resolution instructing the finance committee to inquire into the expediency of consolidating these appropriations so that each society may receive the full amount in turn annually, instead of dividing the appropriation in four parts. As it stood at present, but very little benefit accrued to either society by the division. The resolution was adopted.

Adjourned to Thursday morning at 11 o'clock.

The joint committee on woman suffrage met and organized this morning by the election of Senator Stearns as chairman and Representative Boswort has Secretary. A hearing on the special subject will be had in the hall of the House of Representatives at the State House on Friday next, on the rising houses. Speakers of ability, it is promised, intend to be present, and much interest is felt by the members of the General Assembly and the friends of the movement.

House.

The House met at 11 o'clock, Mr. Speaker Sanborn in the chair.

Mr. Sheffield reported back the bills in amendment to Chapter 104, in relation to water mills, and offered another bill in amendment to both, which he desired printed. His amendment provides that the Governor shall appoint a civil engineer as commissioner, whose duties shall be to examine all dams and reservoirs, and make a record of each, and report to the Governor, once a year. His term of office to be three years, at a salary of $1000 per annum.

Mr. Sheffield said that the bill was very important, for it protected property-holders against defective dams. Any person apprehending danger from dams could notify the commissioner appointed by the Governor, and he would have the power to compel the owner to draw off the water, so that an examination could be made. If the owner refused to comply with the request of the commissioner, the matter would be taken to the Supreme Court. The gentleman thought that under the circumstances it was very urgent that the bill should be passed.

On motion of Mr. Taft, the bill was laid upon the table and made the special order for tomorrow.

Mr. Jillson called from the table his act in amendment to Chapter 179, giving guardians power to give a bill of sale with a mortgage, thus doing away with the three years' redemption and moved its passage.

Mr. Sheffield and Mr. Taft opposed the bill because, in their opinion, it gave the guardian too much power.

A vote being taken, the amendment was lost by a vote of 35 nays to 20 ayes.

Mr. Burrington gave notice that the joint committee on woman suffrage will meet at the rising of the House Friday.

Mr. Davis said that the committee on militia will meet at the rising of the House next Tuesday.

Adjourned.

FORTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, March 7.

Senate.

On motion of Mr. Hawley the statement and testimony taken before the committee on civil service relative to the bills proposing reform in the modes of appointment of subordinate executive officers was ordered printed.

Mr. Garland introduced a bill for the construction, completion, repairing and preservation of levees on the Mississippi river. Temporarily tabled, subject to his call.

Mr. Jackson, from the committee on improvements of the Mississippi river, reported an original bill appropriating $25,000 to continue the improvements of Memphis harbor, Tenn.

The Chinese bill was then proceeded with, and Mr. Platt opposed it.

A vote was ordered upon Mr. Ingall's amendment limiting the suspension of the coming Chinese laborers to ten years.

The amendment was defeated on a tie vote—yeas, 23; nays, 23.

Pairs were announced between Messrs. Davis of West Virginia, Saulsbury, Butler, Johnston, Kellogg, Jones of Florida, and Grover against the amendment, and Messrs. Windom, Ferry, Hawley, Platt, Pugh, Rollins and Van Wyck in the affirmative. Mr. Camden was also paired.

Mr. Hoar, of Massachusetts, against the bill and Mr. Edmunds, of Vermont, against it discussed the question to considerable length.

Mr. Ingalls moved an amendment postponing the time at which the act shall take effect until ninety days after information of its passage has been communicated to China, and the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Farley rose to speak upon what he termed "the bill of iniquities," but yielded for adjournment, and the Senate at 6.10 adjourned until tomorrow.

House.

Mr. Reed, of Maine, from the committee on rules, reported the amendments to the rules presented by him some days ago and printed in the Record.

The following Senate bills were passed:—

Directing the Secretary of War to pay over to the Society of the Army of the Cumberland $7500 to aid in the erection of a statue or monument to General James A. Garfield.

The next bill on the table was the Senate "anti-polygamy" bill.

Mr. Converse, of Ohio, raised the point of order that the bill must go to the committee on the whole.

Pending a decision of the point, the House adjourned.

MR. WEBSTER GOES AFISHING.

As reminiscences of Daniel Webster are in order at this time, I shall relate a visit made to Marshfield in the summer of 1851, when I left home on an official visit to the life-boat stations of the Humane Society of Massachusetts, with two boys. We drove up to Mr. Webster's one fine morning at about nine o'clock, and found him on the point of mounting his vehicle to proceed to the harbor to get some fish. He had on an old velveteen coat and a slouched hat, and looked very black. On seeing me he lightened up and exclaimed, "Providence has sent the very man I want. My wife insists that I must go out and get some fish for dinner, and that I must not work any more today. Jump in, jump in, boys." We soon found ourselves under way in the little schooner Lapwing, with his skipper, whose name I have forgotten, and proceeded to sea. Looking about, I saw hooks and lines preparing, but no bait, and I said, "Well, sir, you may be a good shot and a good Secretary of State, but you are a poor fisherman." "What is the matter?" said he; and I replied, "You have no bait; how do you expect to catch fish?" He opened his great eyes, and said, "Keep still; you shall see." Soon after a school of menhaden rose near the boat; the expounder put his hand under the seat and pulled out a gun and fired both barrels into the school, and several were scooped up by the skipper with a landing net; repeating the process once or twice, we soon had plenty of fresh bait, came to anchor and caught fish. All the time he was as jolly as a boy let out of school. Getting home in due time, we inspected the surroundings of the farm, and the Chinchow geese in the little pond, which I had sent him from China. Mr. Thomas and one or two neighbors came to dinner, and the next morning he harnessed up and accompanied us on our way to Plymouth, taking leave of us at Kingston, with good wishes and a warm hand-shaking. I cannot close this sketch without an allusion to the Lapwing. Mr. Webster had owned a smaller boat, bought for him by myself several years before; she was getting to be old, and one night she was missing, and at her moorings lay the Lapwing, new and in prime order. When Mr. Webster went to the landing, he called the skipper and asked where the sloop was. He replied that all he knew about it was that the old boat had gone, and the new one had come. I shall not reveal the secret further than to say, Sam Hall of East Boston fitted out the Lapwing, carried off the other, and sent no bill to me.

Mr. B. R. Curtis, writing of the late Chinese professor, says:—"On one occasion I asked him to accompany me to a meeting of the Papyrus Club. I sent him an invitation through the mail. By return of post I received a reply enveloped in the Chinese style, and written in his own hand on Chinese letter paper. At the appointed time he called at my house, and we walked together to the rooms of the club. He met the members without the slightest embarrassment, and took his seat at the head of the table with dignity. At the conclusion of the dinner the president introduced him to the club, and he rose to reply. How many Americans would like to stand up at a dinner in China before fifty of its literary and professional men! Professor Ko first made a short speech of introduction in good English. He was hardly at a loss for a single word. He then read a poem in Chinese from manuscript, and then sat down. The whole performance was deliberate, quiet and easy. So much did he please the company that they urged him, by hearty applause, to address them again. He rose again, and recited from memory one of his own poems. Then, bowing his farewell to the club, and taking leave of the president, he retired."

A magnificent reception for gentlemen was given by W. H. Vanderbilt Tuesday afternoon at his residence on Sixth avenue, New York. Nearly a thousand invitations had been sent out, and many prominent men were present.

MENTAL PRESCIENCE.

Many years ago there was a lady who had a most intense dislike to cats, so much so that were there one in the room when she entered, she would be obliged to leave immediately, such an effect had it upon her nervous system. On one occasion, she was invited to dine with the narrator's family in the country, but she declined, because she knew that there were cats on the premises; but on the promise that the cats should be strictly incarcerated she consented to come, and the three cats belonging to the house were duly shut up. During the dinner she was seen to be very uncomfortable, and to look very pale, and on being asked the matter, she said that she was sure there was a cat in the room. Assurances that this could not possibly be the case were of no avail, and on search being made, a cat was found actually sitting under her chair. She rose immediately, and left the table; and passing down the dining-room toward the door she also passed across a small cupboard door opening in the wall, through which the dinner was served directly from the kitchen. As she passed this the second cat of the establishment jumped through it into the dining-room. A scream of horror burst from the poor lady, and she was led away fainting in the drawing-room. The time of year was such that the window of the drawing-room was open, and it was so made that it reached nearly down to the floor, and not much above the lawn outside the house. While the poor lady was being attended to by aid of scent-bottles and such like restoratives, the third of the cat establishment jumped in at the window. This was too much to be borne by such a peculiarly constituted nervous system, and she begged to leave the house immediately.

In 1851, as I was walking down the centre of the Great Exhibition, carelessly looking about me, I was struck with a sudden thought as to whether I should meet a clergyman there with whom I had lived some ten years before, and had not seen for many years, and so far as I remember, had hardly thought of since. Pondering on so strange a turn to my thoughts, I suddenly turned round and retraced my steps; and before I had gone thirty yards I met face to face the very gentleman whom I had just contemplated the possibility of meeting.

Another and a different sort of mental prescience occurred a few years since. I was dressing one morning when I suddenly thought:—What became of my brother's old signet-ring that I used to wear? (This brother had died some thirty years before.) I began to think over it; but found I had lost all recollection of its fate and it passed from my mind. About five or six days afterwards my niece came to stay with me. She had come from my old home some twenty miles distant, where I had been born, and she said she had brought over a ring for me, as my sister thought it must belong to me, and that it had been found by one of the gardeners in the mould in the garden. And by inquiry I found that it had been picked up on the very morning that I had thought of it when I was dressing. Here, then, was the long-lost ring and these various circumstances connecting themselves together; and I then remembered that I had lost the ring in that very spot in the garden belonging to my old house where it had been found; and being a signet-ring, and useful for sealing letters with, I had bought another to supply its place. On referring to my old accounts, I further found that this newer signet-ring had been purchased nearly twenty years before, so that the lost ring had been lying in the garden mould some twenty years before it was recovered in the vicinity of the spot where I had lost it.—[Chambers's Journal.

COURTESY IN CHURCH.

Mrs. Lucy E. Sanford in the Observer has the following comment on the church manner of some of her sisters:—"Like a good Christian I went to church in the City of Brotherly Love. It was an elegant church, and the tones, rich and full, of the grand organ, filled the air as I mounted the steps. 'You'll have to wait till after the first prayer,' said the sexton, gruffly. 'Will you tell me where I can find Mr. N——'s pew?' said my friend. He told us, and we were left to find it, but instead of turning to the right, we turned to the left, into by and forbidden paths, as it proved. As we were enjoying the opening services, thinking ourselves in a friend's pew, a woman came in and looked and looked. I stepped out, and she stepped in, and sat down at the door of the pew! Thereupon my friend came out, and we left. In some prayer-books of that church, I am told, is written, 'This pew holds six persons. Strangers are requested not to sit here.' In my prayer-book is something about strangers being angels unawares; but I suppose the pew-holders of that church stand up in the aisle in a strange city."

AN ACROSTIC.

When an æsthetic young lady of town,
Made her way to the shops of renown,
Into Farrow's jewelry store,
Looking his Christmas goods o'er,
There his "too too" low prices she found.
Oh! then she cried, as she dimpled her chin,
Not too fast, Mr. F., but let us begin.

First of all, here are clocks for $1 or more,
And good timekeepers, too, "Are you sure?
Are you sure?"
Reliable watches, stem wind and stem set,
Remember! six dollars, the lowest price yet.
Oh! oh! oh! What forks and spoons, and knives for butter;
Why, such ridiculously low prices are "too utterly utter!"

Only look at these napkin rings going at cost,
Plated and silver, with bead work and frost;
Those are just lovely, "too beautifully too;"
In the light they now flash, they are so bright and so new.
Can you think of such prices for gold bands and rings?
It seems that as presents, all are fond of such things,
And these chains and necklets—do tell me the price?
Now that will suit Nannie, with locket so nice.

Just look at these charms, these pendants, these pins,
Enough, Mr. Farrow, my head nearly spins,
With the goods, and the prices, your own kind attention,
Each impression I now so æsthetically mention,
Leaves but one choice, with those who want to buy,
Each Christmas as it rolls around when time is on the fly,
Remembrances, and other gifts, "thanks, thanks, most awfully."

Has feet, but they walk not—a rule.

Never ask a woman her age—that is, not that woman. Ask some other woman. —[North American Manufacturer.

A member of a fashionable congregation called at a music store and inquired, "Have you the notes of a piece called 'The Song of Solomon'?" adding, "Our pastor referred to it yesterday as an exquisite gem, and my wife would like to learn to play it."

When Hattie was five years old, her sister married a farmer who owned a large sugar orchard. Soon after a generous package of maple sugar was sent home, and the little girl exclaimed, "Oh, mamma, I'm so glad we've married into such a nice family!"

We have many times been an unwilling listener to the "said he" and "said I" narrations in public conveyances and elsewhere, but never know an instance where the "said I's" didn't say all the smart things, and the "said he's" all the stupid and vicious ones, or where the "said I's" didn't come off victorious in the end.

Young George D. having importuned his father for a horse, the indulgent parent presented him with the ancient steed which for years had carried him about the city streets. A few days afterward, the affectionate son interviewed his father and renewed his request, saying, "Father, can't you give me a horse a little nearer my own age,—one that would be more of a companion to me?"

There is a story told of a member of a certain theological seminary who was so sensitive as to any suspicion of plagiarism that he never allowed himself to make the slightest quotation without giving his authority. On one occasion he commenced grace at breakfast thus:—"Lord, we thank thee that we have been awakened from the sleep which a writer in the Edinburgh Review has called 'the image of death.'"

An amateur of dramatic art, introduced for the first time into the green room, was profuse in compliments to one of the actresses. "I have for so long applauded you from the front," he said, "that I take the liberty of speaking to you, although you don't know me." "Really, it doesn't matter," was the answer; "the elephant doesn't know all the people who feed him, cakes."—[Le Figaro.

FASHION NOTES.

Sleeves are worn very tight.

Basques are much worn this winter, on which are straight capes.

An authority says good taste dictates the choice of small bonnets and large hats.

The latest thing in evening dress in London is to have dress coats slashed with satin.

White, pale blue and rose tinted chudda shawls are the fashionable evening wraps.

Bugs and caterpillars and other creeping things are now emblazoned on fashionable note-paper.

Asparagus, according to an authority that is recognized and accepted, should always be served as a distinct course.

Flowers are very largely imported by the dealers, and they prophesy that midsummer hats will be laden with them.

Short-waisted white waistcoats are growing steadily in favor for full dress among the leading society men of Boston and New York.

Reception and house dresses are made with a princess tob and very high short drapery, oftentimes headed with fringe from 10 to 15 inches deep.

Owls' heads have been much worn in Paris, this winter, on muffs and hats. Some daring persons have even worn an owl's head on the right shoulder of a seal skin sacque.

White and black Spanish lace is used a great deal for ball costumes, and are very effective with pink or blue chenille cord run between the wheels in the pattern or worked with colored beads.

Hats are made of satin, fur, silk, plush, or of goods to match the costume, trimmed with fringe, tassels, fur, birds, flowers, feathers and oftentimes the bands are worked with Kensington.

The bulk of the importations of spring millinery consists of very large bonnets and larger round hats than any worn last summer, yet there are also pokes of medium sizes, cabriolet gypsies, and very small capotes.

Mantles for spring are small and short, and are made of cheviots, of light camel's hair, and of rich cloths, in which gilt and silver threads are introduced. Most of the new shapes have square sleeve-like pieces that cover the arms.

The quantity of natural flowers used for decoration in Paris this winter is specified as prodigious. At a recent ball given for the Breton sufferers the skirt of one lady's dress was literally a bed of roses, the perfume of which in the heated atmosphere was overpowering.

Faille, feathers and the new ecru laces are the trimmings on Paris bonnets. The faille that is about to take the place of satin has very small reps, finer than those of gros grain, and has a sheen like satin; it is very soft and pliable, and forms drapery on the outside of the bonnet.

Large white fichus are still worn. Some have the point on the breast, and not behind; others are trimmed with a series of flounces of white silk tulle, embroidered with large dots four or five inches wide; these flounces, which are very thick, present a fleecy appearance in front. With them is worn a cluster of huge flowers, sometimes, as in the case of certain roses, larger than nature.

One of the latest and most characteristic caprices of fashion decides that black silk dresses and mantles, recently relegated to an obscure corner of a lady's armoire, shall be again restored to their former proud position in the foremost ranks of ornament and utility. Of course, the neglected garments of a year or two ago are no longer sufficiently modern in cut or style to be accepted as spring novelties.

The whirligig of time has done strange things in a year. Garfield has been inaugurated, shot and buried. Conkling has resigned, sought a re-election, failed, and been appointed associate justice to the supreme court. Blaine has been Secretary of State, inaugurated a brilliant foreign policy, not above the suspicion of corruption, and retired under a cloud. Arthur has been called from the Vice-Presidency to the Presidency. The stalwart wing of the party, which was beaten and despondent, has come to the top and looks down with contempt on the half-breeds. All within a year. A very striking year in American politics.—[Boston Herald.

A tramp called at a Kansas house, knowing that the men were away. His intention was to bulldoze the women for food and money. Imagine how he felt when he found the woman in charge was his long-lost mother-in-law. 'Tis said he didn't stop running till he had gone four miles.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Feb. 2, 1880.

I know Hop Bitters will bear recommendation honestly. All who use them confer upon them the highest encomiums, and give them credit for making earnest—all the proprietors claim for them. I have kept them since they were first offered to the public. They took high rank from the first, and maintained it, and are more called for than all others combined. So long as they keep up their high reputation for purity and usefulness, I shall continue to recommend them—something I have never done with any other patent medicine.

The Surgeon's Knife.

Wonderful Surgical Operation—Removal of Urinary Stones from the Bladder—Successful.

Mr. Simeon Tictsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they call Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tictsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all Kidney and Bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders, Constipation of the Bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to OFFICE practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery. 127-4w-eod

Winthrop Wrought-Iron Furnace!

Has been in use for the past seven years, and given entire satisfaction. I offer it to the public as the most desirable furnace on the market. Special attention is called to the new dust-flue damper and reverttible flues, that are not found in the other wrought-iron furnaces. The dust-flue damper prevents escape of dust when shaking down; the reverttible flues cause the flames to sweep the entire surface of the wrought-iron drum, thereby securing much greater radiation of heat, and consequently a great saving in fuel. Cost less to keep in repair than any other furnaces. Are powerful heaters, with moderate consumption of coal. I have sold over 70 in this city. Sold by
